DROWNINGS TAKE TWO VICTIMS IN PAST SIX DAYS

Child and Youth, Both of Berwyn, Lose Lives

A drowning which occurred at Channel Lake Tuesday was the second lake tragedy to take place in this section within the last six days, the victims being a 5-year-old girl, daughter of a Berwyn couple, and a 17-year-old Berwyn youth.

Ed Marek, enjoying a three day outing at the lake with five school chums, was drowned in Channel Lake early Tuesday afternoon. He was swimming from the raft when he was seized with cramps. Efforts of his friends to save him were fruitless. A rope was tied around his waist and he was pulled ashore by William Brinkman. The life saving squad of the fire volunteers worked over the body for two hours before Dr. David Boring pronounced him dead.

The boy went swimming after a heated breakfast. A verdict of death by drowning was given by the coroner's jury at Strang's Undertaking Parlor Tuesday afternoon.

The drowning of Dolores May Stamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stamm, Jr., of Berwyn, occurred last Thursday afternoon at Loon Lake. The child, staying with her mother at the E. Sheehan farm, had accompanied her mother to the cottage after a swim and later gone back to the lake where she was found in three feet of water.

The child was brought to Antioch where efforts were made to revive her and the inhalator was used. Dr. W. W. Warriner was brought to the village hall immediately, but the attempts at resuscitation proved useless. The father of the child was called shortly after the accident and arrived that night.

Efforts to save the victim were taken to Berwyn for burial services. Young Marek graduated from Berwyn high school the past year.

Rosing Appointed Delegate to State Meet of Supervisors

The Lake county board of supervisors Tuesday named William A. Rosing a delegate to the state convention of supervisors to be held in Danville. Other delegates appointed were Frank T. Stanton, Ingleside, and John F. Miller, Waukegan.

The supervisors concluded their one-day session late Tuesday, after appointing judges and clerks of election and fixing the precincts. Waukegan was given an additional precinct and one was eliminated in the county, keeping the total number in the county at 75 precincts.

County May Resort to New Law in Case of Tax Delinquents

Appointing a receiver to take over the property of delinquent taxpayers in Lake County may be resorted to after Aug. 1, the deadline for second installment payment, according to officials at the county building in Waukegan.

The Kerner-Skard law, making such a procedure legal, was passed in the last session of legislature and is proving effective in Cook county. However, the tax situation is less acute in Lake county where 40 per cent of all 1932 taxes have now been paid, according to assistants in the office of J. B. Morse, treasurer.

Bohi, Principal Speaker at Crystal Lake I. O. O. F. Memorial Services Sunday

Memorial services of the Crystal Lake Oddfellow Lodge last Sunday at which the Rev. Philip T. Bohi of the Antioch Methodist Church was the principal speaker were attended by a number of local Oddfellows and Rebekahs, among them: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Drom, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Drom, Mr. and Mrs. Will Runyard, Fred Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Osmond, Leola Hughes, and Mrs. John Horan.

11,000 Beer Dealers Licensed in State

Nearly 11,000 retail beer dealers have been authorized to sell beer since the new beverage became legal in April. They have paid the state about $400,000 in license fees which went into the general fund.

"Pat" Lowry Prefers Tobacco Raised and Cured in Own Garden

H. P. Lowry, Antioch plumber, popularly known as "Pat," is an Irishman who believes in the worth of "home products," for he raises and cures his own tobacco yearly along with his other garden plants.

Seeding his own tobacco, he transplants it as early as the weather is mild enough and in the fall cuts the leaves and hangs them up to dry. Tobacco which is three to four years old is preferred by Mr. Lowry who raises 12 or 14 plants every year. The home raised tobacco, according to Mr. Lowry, has an advantage over commercial brands in that it is not gummy and does not stick to his pipe.

He learned to raise tobacco from an aunt, he declares, saying that this relative raised her tobacco which she smoked in a clay pipe, always lighted by a coal from the hearth.

NATIONAL TEA CO. PRESENTS ANTIOCH SALES TAX REFUND

Mayor Gets $80 Check as Sales Tax Refund from Local Store

The National Tea Company this week presented Antioch with a cash gift of $80.00, the donation coming in the form of a check to Mayor George B. Bartlett, with the explanation that the amount represented the sales tax money collected by the local store while the sales tax law was in effect. Subsequently the law was declared invalid.

The letter from the manager of the tea company explained that no active charitable organization was known in Antioch, and the Mayor was directed to place the money where he thought best. Acting upon the suggestion in the letter, Mayor Bartlett today mailed a check for $80 to Mrs. W. C. Potts, president of the Antioch Parent-Teachers' association, asking that the money be used as an addition to the milk fund at the grade school, and a check for a like amount was mailed to Principal L. O. Bright of the Antioch high school, to be used as a food fund for needy students the coming year.

Home Bureaus Sponsoring Community Camp Fire

Clarence Snelberger and E. E. Elsbury will be hosts in the first of a series of Community Camp Fires being planned by Lake County Farm and Home Bureaus.

The first of the series will be held Wednesday evening, July 26, at 8:00 D. S. T. at Snelberger's Woods just off Route No. 22 south of Lake Zurich.

The second of the series will be held Thursday evening, July 27, at the home of E. E. Elsbury on Grand Avenue east of Wedge's Corner.

An extra effort is being made to furnish a varied program for each evening.

Coal fires will be provided to roast wieners and marshmallows. Every family in the community is invited to attend and bring their own food.

Ingleside Girl Wins Place in World's Fair Typewriting Contest

Miss Harriet Stanton of Ingleside, a grandniece of William H. Stratton, former secretary of state, won third place at the World's Fair for her skill as a typist. She is one of the members of the Grant Community High School typing team.

Mrs. James Breaks Arm Above Wrist in Fall

Mrs. J. C. James broke her arm above the wrist Monday when she fell down the steps to her back porch. She is reported to be recovering nicely from her injury.

Kenosha Farmers Issue Invitation to Annual Picnic

Care of Dairy Herd to Be Discussed in Program

An invitation to farmers in northern Illinois has been extended this week by the Kenosha County Dairyman's association to attend the annual picnic, next Wednesday at the Jacob Kreuscher and Son farm, located on county highway E, 1 mile west of Highway 41 and 1 mile north of Highway 43. Plans for the event are being made under the leadership of Milo Hills, of the Kenosha County Herd Improvement Association.

Coyner to Speak
The program will start promptly at 10:30 o'clock in the morning with J. M. Coyner of the American Institute of Meat Packers talking on the results of feeding trials conducted with hogs on the Kreuscher farm. He will also discuss the different methods of feeding and handling hogs and the comparative values and advantages of the various methods.

A. J. Cramer of the Animal Husbandry Department, University of Wisconsin will follow Mr. Coyner with a talk on the Dairy Herd Improvement exhibit in the Kreuscher herd pointing out the advantages of testing and using good herd sires.

Schnurr on Program
At 11:30 A. M. M. M. Schnurr, principal of the Wilmet High School and instructor in agriculture, will talk on the importance of properly feeding and caring for the dairy calf. This message should be of interest to 4-H club members carrying calf club projects.

A concert by the Kenosha Junior Band, Delbert Duell director, will follow the picnic dinner.

At 1:30 P. M. there will be an address by Geo. M. Briggs, Extension Agronomist of the University of Wisconsin.

A trip will be made to the fields on the Kreuscher farm where Mr. Briggs will show results secured through the use of commercial fertilizer, etc.

Games and other entertainment will complete the program for the afternoon.

The programs presented in past years have attracted dairy farmers from all parts of the state of Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

The picnic is open to all persons interested in dairy improvement methods.

Merchants Lose to Fox Lake by 4-3; Will Play Zion

Antioch's Merchant baseball team took a defeat from Fox Lake, in the last game played, of 3-4, with Antioch taking the lead until the end of the fifth inning. A run was scored by the out of town team in the sixth inning, and the winning run, in the seventh inning.

A game will be played between the Merchants and the Zion team Friday night at Naber Field in which increased fan interest is expected. Maestri pitched for the team again in the last game, striking out 15 men. Hubbel and Tonyan pitched for the Fox Lake team. Hubbel is reported to have been a pitcher last year for Kansas City in the Inter-League.

The Merchants' lineup for the game was: Snydam, ss; Sheehan, 3b; Wilett, 1b; Ohlin, 2b; H. Maestri, p; Sullivan, c; Brogan, lf; F. Maestri, rf; Miller, cf; Fox Lake's lineup was: Tweed, cf; Knowles, ss; Dalker, lf; K. Stratton, 2b; Cerney, c; Dalee, 1b; Welban, rf; Lally, ss; Tonyan, p; Hubbel, p.

New Law Fixes Wages for Women, Children

Governor Horner has signed Senator John Lee's bill providing for a minimum wage for women and children. The law provides for the creation of a wage board, to consist of representatives of labor, employers and the public, to be named by the governor, to investigate and establish wage standards, under the department of labor.

What's in a name? You know vinegar is just hard cider that has been mothered instead of fathered. He is called the ultimate consumer because he seems to be always the last person to get any benefit.

KOPECKY, LOON LAKE VACATIONIST, KILLED BY SOO LINE TRAIN

Body Found by John Wolf Wednesday Morning

Killed by a train running over his body, Vincent Kopecky, a vacationist at Loon Lake, was found at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, on the track of the Soo railway, where he evidently stumbled and fell while on his way home the night before.

The body was discovered by John Wolf, who called Constable Frank Maestri. Identification was made by Charles Gernak who remembered the clothing the man had been wearing the evening before, when he started home sometime after nine o'clock. He had been in the company of a friend who left him about nine. Kopecky, a resident of 1242 South Millard St., Chicago, was staying at a lake cottage with his wife and a daughter-in-law.

Inquiries at the office of the railway company disclosed that no trains had passed over the body, but none of the engineers knew of the occurrence until evidence was disclosed by an examination of the engines.

Kopecky, has three sons living besides his wife. Coroner's inquest was held at the Strang Undertaking Parlor. According to the evidence, Train No. 2 was the first train which passed over the body.

The funeral services will be held in Chicago. Kopecky was 65 years old.

Composer of Exposition Song Is Summering at Cross Lake Cottage

George F. Rohrsen, now vacationing at Cross Lake, is composer of a song, "Century of Progress in Chicago, 1933," which has been published recently and is entered in the contest for the official song with the Chicago officials. Mr. Rohrsen is a resident of Chicago and an employee of the Chicago postal service for the past thirty-five years.

Fair Directors Revise Poultry Entry Rules

At the recent meeting of the Directors of the Antioch Country Fair it was decided to make new rules regarding poultry entries. All poultry entries must be left with or mailed to the Secretary not later than Sept. 30th.

The poultry department also has been reclassified. These rules apply to poultry department only.

Anyone who wishes a catalog may have one by writing F. Horton, secretary, after Aug. 1.

Is "Juice" Tangible Personal Property? Lawyers Disagree

The state department of finance is having difficulty in determining whether or not electricity is tangible personal property. Electricity must come under that heading before it can be taxed under the new state sales tax. Lawyers disagree on the subject.

Kerner Says Bill Is Unconstitutional

Attorney General Otto Kerner has stated that senate bill No. 407 is unconstitutional; the governor will probably veto it. The bill, which is a companion to the already enacted law cutting down the size of the commerce commission and hence is incomplete and unconstitutional.

To Test Validity of Sales Tax Law

Attorneys who are making a study of the 2 per cent sales tax law, with a view of filing suit to test its constitutionality, are considering raising the question of the validity of the vote of Representative R. E. Grigsby, Blandinsville, who supported the measure.

Maypole, Graham Bills Hit Election Frauds

Drastic penalties for numerous election frauds are now in force since the governor has signed seven bills sponsored by Senators Ritchey V. Graham and George M. Maypole both of Chicago.

NATIONAL AID ASKED FOR CONSTRUCTION OF VILLAGE RESERVOIR

Trustees Apply for Funds Under Recovery Act to Replace Tower

Application to the Governor's Commission on Unemployment, in Illinois under the National Industrial Recovery Act towards the construction of a new water reservoir, has been made this week by the Antioch trustees, in the belief that federal aid would make possible the construction of a new tank at this time. The proposed reservoir would cost a neighborhood of $8,000.00, according to estimates made by the trustees. The present tank, built in 1907 has a capacity of 40,000 gals.

Under the National Recovery Act, more than three billion dollars have been set aside for aiding villages and towns in making civic improvements, towards which as much as 20 per cent of the total cost may be allowed. Besides materially benefitting the community in making possible the erection of a new tank, the allowance of money for this purpose by the government, would give work to a number of Antioch men.

Clean Up Dump
At a meeting of the board this week it was decided to clean up the Vos property on Depot street, being used as a public dumping ground. Some talk was reported of making a hockey rink on this location.

Permission was granted the Antioch Fair Association to hold the annual fair at the Antioch Township High School. Water delinquent bills were reported to be paid in full but a few cases where exceptions have been made.

A meeting of the board will be held within the next week for passing the annual tax levying ordinance.

4-H Club Notes

On Wednesday, July 5, the Cheerful Stitches' 4-H club met at the Oakland school.

The third and fourth year girls worked on their slips and the first year members are finishing their slips and working on their dresses. Margaret Pierstorff gave a talk on colors and different types. Ruth Pierstorff and Claire Minto gave a talk on different kinds of fabrics. One member was absent.

Lotus Blossoms Already Reported; Will Be in Bloom next Week End

Several blossoms in the Lotus garden of Grass and Fox Lakes have been reported by sightseers this week. Excursion boats have been started on the lakes and crowds are expected to arrive Sunday to view the blossoms which will then be open. Although the beds will contain some Sunday, authorities state it will be ten days before plants are profuse with flowers. The beds are considered, if anything, larger this year than in other years.

BREAD PRICES

Bread prices were due to go up this week, although local bakers have failed to make a change at this time, delaying until definite action is necessary. The rise in price will follow the action taken by Chicago bakers and will cover the increase in price of wheat, the processing tax which became recently effective and increased wage scale.

Rising prices at this time, although they work a hardship with the man whose dollars remain the same in number if not in size, when indicative of increased wages, are welcomed by a large part of the consumers, for rising prices are recognized as one of the trends which are forming stepping stones along the path out of the business slump of the past few years.

The bread tax, placed on wheat as an inducement for the farmer to reduce his acreage, has become theoretically obsolete since the grain has soared from 50 cents a bushel to the dollar mark, but the tax was created for a purpose which has been filled by the drought, and the artificial regulator, therefore, becomes a hindrance.

Concerning the tax, the Indianapolis News has the following to say:

"Meantime nature brought about the restricted output so carefully planned by economic ringmasters in Washington and dollar wheat became a fact. All that the 30 cents was expected to do has been done, but the brain trust cannot let go of its idea. Faint remarks are heard that the speculation is inspired by desire to discredit Washington, but they avail nothing against the reality of drought shortage. Perhaps the professors will get around in time to the consumer. The drought will cost him enough without adding something for visionary experiments."

STRIPPED OF GLAMOUR

A small grass fire, like that which occurred Monday afternoon at Twin Lakes, has all the sensational attraction of a large fire with none of the resulting loss. The excitement of a fire, the brilliancy of the fire truck, the triumph of conquering it, is there in the small fire. With the more serious conflagration, the danger is greater, the task of extinguishing the fire is more difficult, and the glamour of the fire is dimmed. For the victim of a serious fire the glamour does not exist, a fact which we realize only after we have passed the age when a fire is one of the big events of our lives. No matter how efficient a fire department may be, as in the case of Twin Lakes, a fire is always a serious matter for there is always a chance, slight in some cases, that it may spread to do serious damage. Precautions taken against fires will inevitably yield returns, whether the precautions are taken with your neighbor's property or your own. Figures on the fires in this country during a single year, show a tremendous loss is yearly caused by fires. A zealous safeguarding of property against fire, as well as the inroads of taxes, is a cause worthy of any citizen.

TEACH SAFE DRIVING IN HIGH SCHOOL

The automobile driver of tomorrow is the high school student of today. This driver of the future should be a careful, courteous, and conscientious motorist, mindful of the rights of all others and thoroughly informed as to traffic laws and regulations.

That is why high school motor clubs have three basic functions: First, the teaching of safe driving principles; second, accurate mechanical information; and third, education in state, local and municipal laws and ordinances. In this program police departments, automobile manufacturers, insurance companies and all others interested in traffic safety, are always ready to lend a hand to provide demonstrations, speakers, lecture courses, booklets, pamphlets and other material.

Statistics for 1932 show that 11,960 drivers under 18 were involved in accidents, although few states permit youngsters of that age to handle a car alone in public.

There is no better place to instill the principles of any subject than in a school. Carpentry is taught in schools, but more boys will drive automobiles than will work at a bench. Girls will drive more frequently than they will cook, but cooking is taught in modern schools.

The high school automobile club provides safety education. It is no expense to the schools. Nothing is spent by the willingly contributed time of the safety agencies.

EVADING TAXES

Otto H. Kahn, senior member of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., private bankers of Wall Street who made nearly a million dollars floating Chilean bonds in the boom period, was revealed last week by the Pecora committee as another millionaire who ran out from under his taxes during the past three years. Small wonder that there has been so much difficulty in balancing the national budget when the men best able to pay taxes find a way to avoid doing so. Mr. Kahn followed the orthodox plan of selling securities to his wife at a heavy loss, deducting this from his income tax returns, and then buying them back a few days later.

Maybe farmers have been overlooking a bet. Maybe we should sell the farm to the wife at a low price just before the assessor comes around, and get our taxes cut in two.—Prairie Farmer.

Yesterdays

Taken from The Antioch News,

F. K. Bumstead, compiler of the Waukegan and many other city directories gives the population of Antioch at 1,051.

The greatest financial and industrial interests of America have agreed to work harmoniously in an effort to improve business conditions and give employment to the idle. Within one month, they expect that all idle mills will be operating; that the panic of 1907 will have been history. That the industrial giants urged by President Roosevelt are working in unison to stimulate energy into business and industrial affairs is known at the White House.

Paul Forbich and Andrew Lynch were among the witnesses in the damage suit case, summoned from Antioch to Chicago last Monday.

Mrs. J. M. Hucker spent Sunday with Mr. Hucker at the McCallister Hospital at Waukegan. She reports that he is getting along nicely and may be allowed to come home in a few days.

L. M. Haynes is having a new cement walk laid in front of his property on Main St.

Emmett King of Hickory is home from school for his summer vacation.

Last week, George Sugar made a wild dash on a bicycle from Lake Villa to Antioch in fourteen minutes.

Taken from The Antioch News,
July 11, 1933

When the promoters of the Fourth of July celebration had counted up their receipts and expenditures at their meeting Monday afternoon they were highly elated to find that they had cleared the sum of $482.95 which is to be divided between the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., and the Boys' Relief. The parade in the morning was led by Wesley Story on his decorated pony, followed by a native of the Fiji Islands, the Antioch and Alendale bands, the old soldiers, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Campfire girls, floats from the Junior Red Cross, the Royal Neighbors, the Eastern Star, the Guild of the Holy Cross and decorated autos, Uncle Sam and Goddess of Liberty in their old fashioned southern turn-out and colored coachman and last but not least the happiest pair in Antioch whose wedding was decorated with old shoes and placards plainly told that they were just married.

There is so much comment on the dusty condition of our village streets that for the benefit of the public we state that there is not a sufficient supply of water in the village well to permit of its being used for sprinkling purposes. However, at the meeting of the second of July, L. O. Hawkins of the street and alley committee was made a committee of one to install a gasoline engine for pumping the water from the old well at the intersection of Main and Depot streets, in order that it might be used on the streets.

Frank Harden and L. B. Grice were appointed to secure estimates for the driving of a new ten inch well at the last meeting of the board.

The Rev. S. E. Pollock and his troop of Boy Scouts are enjoying a week of camping at Channel Lake.

Rev. A. Ormsby, of Creston, Ia., was a guest of Rev. J. Finan, last week and said the nine o'clock mass at Twin Lakes on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Sergeant of Des Plaines were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Buckley.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kanis, of Kenosha, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kanis.

George Baza, South America; Edward Frederickson, George Krocke, Madison; Jacob Krocke and sons, Frederick and Robert, from Milwaukee, were recent guests of Miss Anna Krocke.

John Staley, of Chicago, is spending his vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faulkner.

Miss Eda Bufton, Kenosha, was a guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bufton.

H. P. Andrae, of Milwaukee, was a recent dinner guest at the Carey home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beath and son, Andrew, of La Crosse; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mathews, Antioch; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boulden and daughter, Loraine, of Edison Park were visitors of Mrs. Hannah Boulden and Mary Boulden last week.

Mrs. Wallace Dobyns and Gene spent Wednesday at Elgin with Mrs. Mary Carey.

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. James and daughter, Donna Jean, of Miami, Florida, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faulkner Thursday. Rev. James and family were enroute from Miami to Emporia, Kansas, and Oklahoma to visit relatives. Rev. James was a pastor at the Wilmot church several years back and now has a church at Miami with a membership of 1400.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN FAUS

TODAY may I present to you the summer or ready-to-eat branch of the sausage family. This family together with your own cold cooked meats is more than willing and able to help you plan quick and easy meals for hot days. Cook your roasts on cool days and be ready for the sure to follow hot ones. In the ready-to-eat sausage family are the various ham, beef and tongue bolognas, liverwurst, luncheon specialties and the dry sausage, cervelat (with no garlic) and salami (with garlic). Other well-known members of the family are head cheese and blood sausage. Boiled, baked and spiced sliced ham are also economical ready-to-eat meats.

Jellies and preserves are delicious with cold plates. Use them and peanut butter for the children's sandwiches. Peaches and cantaloupes are good, plentiful and reasonable this week as are also green peas.

The Quaker Maid Kitchen presents the following menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Roast Pork Creamed Potatoes
Apple Sauce Buttered Beets
Bread and Butter
Lemon Gelatin Milk
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner
Jellied Bouillon
Cold Cuts Stuffed Tomato Salad

"I suppose you are campaigning among the plain people," remarked the woman of the house when the candidate called.

"No, I am after the beauty vote—and I would like yours," replied the man of wisdom. He got not only her vote but enough others so that he was elected to office.

Of Interest To WOMEN

Household
Hints

Keeping Summer Clothes Fresh in Color and Spotless Requires Versatility

Requires Patience of Woman Who Is Her Own Cleaner and Dyer

Summer clothes to be attractive must be kept fresh in color and at the same time always spotlessly clean. The conflict of these two requirements is evident to the woman who has shed an attractive dress, to find faded, or tried her hand at cleaning a hat which to her despair became shapeless and yellowed.

Keeping clothes fresh need not necessarily mean a drain on the purse, especially not for the woman who has leisure time, and it need not discarding wearing apparel when it becomes soiled. Patience and experimenting will make any woman capable of doing herself the things which may cost nearly the price of a new garment to have done for her.

With colored clothes, perhaps the first threat is the summer sun plus frequent washings, for these two can take the most attractive colors away. Dull, blues and orchids, which fade most quickly by the sun's unfattering shades, both on these items will prevent freshness.

Colored tub silks and fine velvets and organdies, for best results are dried gently in warm, not hot, soap. Those which have shown a tendency toward fading in the sun, and losing a little of their brilliance, may be tinted after rinsing. Remember, tinting is quite another matter from dyeing. It does not require boiling, makes no decided change in the color, and is a really simple process if the tint is carefully selected from those offered for sale these days.

In tinting it is best not to strive for a pronounced deepening of the shade of the dress. Tinting which eases the best results is accomplished by dipping the garment in a lukewarm dye bath which is only slightly deeper in color than the shade of the garment. The dye or tint should be bought for the type of garment to be dyed. Good results are often obtained by buying a dye which is dissolved in boiling water, and then diluted in warm water to the desired tint.

White clothes, especially white silks, are quite likely to require as much care in tubbing as colored clothing for while it is no longer attractive when it has lost its immaculate snow-white appearance. Washing these clothes before they have become extremely soiled, taking care to wash them one by one in clean water for each garment, and being generous with the rinsings will help in keeping white from becoming gray or yellow. When the white loses its freshness, often too-warm water is at fault.

Fragile summer garments are best ironed after being rolled wet from the tub into a large absorbent Turkish towel, except in the case of velvets which have been starched. Often a white voile or a white organdy will benefit from a drying in the sun, but not colored fabrics.

Dresses are only a small part of the summer's worries over clothes to keep fresh. With white shoes, white and light pastel hats, light gloves and purses, the problem is all embracing. For many novelties fabrics and new types of materials, there is no precedent by which they may be guided in their cleaning.

Hats, because so often a favorite can't be replaced, are approached by most women when they are soiled with trepidation. Yet most hats are a simple matter to clean. When they need blocking and a real cleaning, especially in the case of a Panama or other straw, they may be sent to the cleaner, where they will be reblocked and made new. Of course, the risk of the reblocking is tremendous, for no hat may return an entirely different model from that which was sent.

Before leaving a hat to be cleaned, be certain that the establishment is a stand for reblocking women's as well as men's hats, and then insure the cleaner with the fact that you want the hat altered as little as possible.

Because of the often disastrous results of a trip to the cleaner's with a hat, many women will prefer to attempt all methods of amateur cleaning before taking a chance. A list of tried methods await their experimentation.

At hats, to begin with those most easily cleaned, may be made fresh with a sheet of fine sandpaper, which to rub up the hat gently against the old, and also valuable in removing and cleaning a white block comb which is sold at drug stores.

Forcing Child to Eat Foods Accomplishes More Harm Than Good

Forcing a child to eat what he dislikes is how not to teach him to like those foods, for the emotional scene he goes through in relating the parent's efforts, establishes associations which will linger for many years.

In trying to break down your child's prejudice against a food, use every effort to take his attention from the food. Disguise it in some way, if possible place it in combination with other foods, and if he refuses it, don't fuss about the matter, but let him see that the rest of the family finds it appetizing.

Children should be taught to eat all foods with enjoyment, but if they find the food distasteful, let the matter drop. More harm is done to the child in scenes at the table to force him to eat, than any good which comes to the effort.

However, too great lenience on the other side is harmful also. Place nourishing, healthful foods on the table, making no substitutes and in time he will of his own choice eat sensibly.

gives a surprisingly new finish when rubbed over the hat.

So much for felts. This season brought plaques, organdies and linens into the hat world, all of which increase the cleaning problem. Plaque hats cannot be washed in most cases and to try washing them may lead to lamentable results for naturally the fabric when washed becomes limp, loses shape, and often shrinks. Soiled spots on this type of hat may be sponged out with carbon tetrachloride, which may be purchased at the drugstore, and in case the soiled spot is not entirely removed, go over with white shoe cleaner. The white dressing in the cleaner must be brushed out after the hat has dried. Care is required for this type of cleaning. As a last resort, dipping the hat in naphtha may give satisfactory results, but it is quite likely to leave the hat slightly yellow if it is white. With linens, sponging with soap and water is more permissible than with plaque, but again the water must not be applied too plentifully. Organdies will require the expert services of an experienced dry cleaner.

Often soil may be wiped off straw with a slightly dampened cloth, and the white shoe cleaner may prove effective here as with the plaque hat.

Shoes, though generally considered a more easily solved problem than hats in the cleaning, may have their troublesome angles. Fabric shoes especially have a tendency to absorb dust. Shoes of pique, linen, and other fabrics, are best cleaned by first washing off the soil. An old toothbrush dipped in warm soapsuds and brushed almost dry will serve them shaken almost dry, which they should be stuffed with tissue paper to preserve their shape and dried before adding the white dressing.

When absolutely necessary, leather shoes may also be washed clean, but in most cases, since the leather does not absorb dust, cleaner will be equally effective and the water treatment takes the finish off leather which means that the shoes will soon be beyond cleaning. With old shoes, a beyond cleaning, with considerable white dressing is best for it renews the white appearance of the shoes. With white shoes, a cream dressing which will preserve the oils is best. Also, this type of cleaner will leave a polish which in itself is a protection to the shoe.

With gloves, the best advice is to wear only washables, summer is to wear only pairs. All fabric and to have several pairs. These gloves are easily washed these days. Organdy cuffs and ruffled plaques necessarily require ironing. Doekins which are the closest thing in leather to the washable fabric gloves, wash if not with the same ease when taken care of. Leaving the soapsuds in these gloves is believed by many people to make them softer. The gloves are first washed in soapsuds, then rinsed and dipped in a suds, then rinsed and dipped in a second soapsuds. It is best not to dry them rapidly by means of artificial heat.

A young author in Washington once wrote to Rudyard Kipling as follows: "I have heard it stated that you receive $1 a word for everything you write. I enclose $1 and would like a sample."

Kipling replied with just one word, "Thanks," signed the letter and kept the dollar.

The American then wrote the anecdote up and sold it to a magazine. Being an honest fellow, he then wrote back to Kipling: "I sold the anecdote for $1 and I enclose your half—40 cents, after deducting the postage."

Salads Result in Making Best of Foods on Market

Salads are perfect complements to every meal except breakfast, and for lunch may be the main dish. Combining fruits, vegetables, raw and cooked, and such proteins as cheese and nuts, they offer rare opportunity for making the best of all foods on the market.

Carrots cooked are extremely unpalatable to many children who are satisfied to eat them raw. A salad of chopped raw carrot and peanuts is a favorite dish with children and the following salad makes use of the chopped raw carrots also.

Carrot and Cheese Salad
1 small package cream cheese
10 chopped stuffed olives
Lettuce for 4 salads
1/2 cup finely diced carrots
2 tablespoons minced parsley
12 paper thin slices carrot
Mayonnaise

Mix cheese, diced carrots and chopped olives together and form into 12 small balls. Roll each in minced parsley, then place on each bed of lettuce, three slices of carrots and on each carrot slice, a ball. Garnish with mayonnaise and serve.

The heat salads are those made of a combination of foods, for they come nearest to making a balanced meal in themselves which cuts down on the effort involved in preparing the meal and the summer housewife seldom scores work savers.

The following salads will offer a variety for lunch and dinner or dinner and supper this summer. The salad for the main meal of the day should preferably be a simple, head lettuce, tomato, water cream, or similar salad unless it takes an important place in the meal.

Macaroni Salad
2 cups cooked macaroni
1 onion chopped
1 green pepper chopped
1 cup celery, chopped
1 apple, chopped
Marinate the macaroni with French dressing. Toss all ingredients together in a salad bowl. Chill thoroughly and serve with mayonnaise.

Fresh Asparagus Salad
1 package lemon gelatine
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup asparagus stock or cold water
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups asparagus, cooked and diced
1 pimiento, chopped

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water. Add asparagus stock, vinegar and salt. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in asparagus, and pimiento. Turn into individual molds. Place in refrigerator and chill 1 1/2 hours. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Sprinkle with paprika. Serves eight.

Cheese and Apple Salad
1 package lemon gelatine
1 pint boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 red apple cut in 1/4 inch dice
1 teaspoon sugar
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1/2 walnut meats

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water, add one teaspoon lemon juice and salt. Combine apples, sugar, salt and remaining one tablespoon lemon juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold apples into one-half of gelatin mixture. Turn into a freezing tray and chill until firm. Beat remaining gelatine with rotary egg beater until of consistency of whipped cream. Fold in cheese and nuts. Pour over firm first layer. Chill 1 1/2 hours. Serve in squares on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves eight.

Tuna Fish Salad
1 small can of tuna fish
3 boiled eggs
2 cups cooked peas
several stalks of celery
lettuce
mayonnaise
Chop the eggs and celery and mix with tuna fish and peas, taking care not to break up the fish too much. Add the mayonnaise and serve on a lettuce leaf. Chicken, crab, meat, shrimp, or lobster may be substituted for the tuna fish, and it is a good idea to use a small portion of peas may be used. This is an excellent lunch dish.

Moratorium
Moose—What's all this talk about moratorium? What's a moratorium?
Eph—Ah dunno exactly but Ah b'lieves hit um one of dese yer places whar dey burles people when dey's dead.

If people's consciences were as tender as their shins, they would take better care of them.

Oh, Yeah?
Billfuzz: "Are you going to be bothered much with your income tax this year?"
Jubb—"No. I have just figured out that at the highest tax rate they can charge me the government will owe me over $100."

"Mamma, I wish you would give me a dark breakfast," said the little boy.
"What do you mean by that?" asked the mother.
"Well," answered the youngster, "last night Dad told you to give me a light supper, and I didn't like it."

THE best remedy that I've found for spring fever is a change. And even if we can't all have a change of scene this year, we can, at least, and very inexpensively too—have a change of dessert. So let's keep these delicious new brain recipes on hand. It is very pleasant to eat delicious food and to know at the same time that it is good for you.

Bran Ginger Cakes

3/4 cup sifted cake flour; 3/4 teaspoon baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 cup whole bran; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 cup granulated sugar; 1/3 cup water; 1 cup brown sugar; 1/2 cup butter; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 cup whole bran; 1 cup milk; 1 cup whole bran.

Bran Upside Down Cake

1 cup sifted cake flour; 3/4 teaspoon baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 cup whole bran; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 cup granulated sugar; 1/3 cup water; 1 cup brown sugar; 1/2 cup butter; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 cup whole bran; 1 cup milk; 1 cup whole bran.

Bran Fig Pudding

1/2 cup sifted cake flour; 1/2 teaspoon baking powder; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 cup whole bran; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 cup milk; 1/2 cup melted shortening; 1/4 cup figs, cut.

Light, 1c

RECIPE for a nice lazy evening on your porch:
A good smoke, your favorite magazine, and plenty of light beside your easy chair.

THE COST: Only 16 cents. (Just a penny of this total pays for the electricity that lights the reading lamp for 2 hours.)

This little recipe may be varied in a number of pleasant ways. Substitute a table of bridge, a jigsaw puzzle, a new book. But always the ingredient of good light is necessary. And always it costs remarkably little. One or two or three cents worth of electricity will illuminate your porch or your living room for an entire evening.

HOLD ON TO YOUTH

Hair Takes the Spotlight

By Marie H. Callahan, Editor
Modern Beauty Shop Magazine

Since the millinery industry has evidently made up its mind to disregard the old-fashioned idea that it is something to cover the head and insist on our wearing infinitesimal "topknots" perched on an ear—or an eye-spot—we women are going to have to think about our hair whether we want to or not. We no longer need to grow a mop that we can "sit on" to rate a place among the beautiful but what little we have, after the thinning, clipping process is over, is certainly on par with as it never has been before.

It is common knowledge that one of the results of some serious illnesses is frequently falling out of the hair. But few of us take into account the fact that our general physical condition may also be the reason for our own ordinary hair troubles—that physical condition might be the explanation of why our once glossy hair has suddenly become dull and lifeless. But such is the case. The first essential for a healthy scalp is an active circulation of rich blood throughout the body.

So it naturally follows that daily exercise which keeps our circulation from becoming sluggish, and the proper functioning of the digestive system which provides the necessary nutritive elements to the blood stream, are both essential to hair health. So, the diet built around fresh milk, fruits and vegetables which is recommended for your figure and your complexion is necessary for lustrous hair, too. These protective foods guard beauty as well as health.

The value of hair tonic lies in the stimulating action of some of its ingredients which serve to improve the blood circulation, or in its oil producing or drying qualities. Hence, it is obvious that massage and regular brushing are also most important in producing beautiful hair.

Now, about the shampoo. Pure soap, soft water, thorough rinsing, are essential. If your hair is excessively oily it may need to be washed as often as once a week. Dry hair can be done a little less frequently. Brisk massage given at the time of the shampoo is a good idea. There are numerous special methods such as egg shampoos, oil shampoos, etc., that will do wonders toward putting new life in your hair.

The arrangement of your hair can do so much to make or mar your whole appearance that it is worth while to give some actual, definite study to it. Here are a few hints to guide you. First, look at your neck—If it's short and plump a short haircut or long hair worn with a slight upward line will be most becoming. On the other hand, if your neck is long and thin a long cut, or, for example, a roll or fluffy ringlets at the neckline will be your best choice.

Study your head and the shape of your face. If your face is wide and full, keep your waves close to your ears; if the face is long and thin, fluff your hair out at the sides. Is your forehead high? If so, probably you need a bang or a flat curl. If it's low, try brushing your hair back. There was a day when we might have recommended a fly-away, fluffy bob for the young flapper type of girl, but today we're all pretty "smooth." The sleek is a pretty good general rule to follow.

In Housecleaning Time
Alarmed wife (whose husband had gone to bed first, but whom she did not find abed when she got there):
"Bill, where are you? Bill!"
Brawny Bill—"Aw, come on to bed, I've been asleep hours."
Mrs. Bill—"But you aren't in bed."
Bill—"Thunder, I'm not. I'm where the bed is anyway."
Mrs. Bill—"No, darling. You are where the bed used to be. I changed things around today and you are sleeping in the cedar chest."

Did you get yours? The government issued 6,248,800 George Washington quarters in 1932.

Just a Substitute
Lady, to beggar—How could you and the nickel I gave you if you are blind?
Beggar—I'm not the blind man, I'm substituting for him while he goes to see a new movie.
"Mother," asked little Jack, "Is it correct to say that you 'water a horse' when he is thirsty?"
"Yes, dear," replied his mother.
"Well, then," said Jack, picking up a saucer, "I'm going to milk the cat."

Little four-year-old David had been so bad that finally his mother turned him over to his father, who gave him a few spanks in the place where they would do the most good.
David was not hurt physically but his dignity was wounded almost beyond endurance. He went into the kitchen where his mother was getting supper ready and, in a defiant tone, cried out: "Mother, I don't think I can stand that husband of yours around much longer."

Sandy—I think that McManneest Scotchman in the Waffles—What has he got done now?
Sandy—For Christmas he let his wife a paper plate and an official—I'm for a five-day week.
